Dedication

To

Sumner E. Marvell

We, the Class of January, 1936, respectfully dedicate this book, not only in recognition of his kindness and capable instruction, but because he is an all-round good fellow.

SUMNER E. MARVELL

In Memoriam

Requiescat in pace

On January 11, 1936, at the call of the Divine Master, there departed from among us a beloved teacher, William D. Riseborough. We will always remember Mr. Riseborough as a good soldier and a friend, ever ready to help us over the rough places.

WILLIAM D. RISEBOROUGH
Head of Art Department

Activities

Class History of January, 1936

When the class of January, 1936, entered the New Bedford High School, we were determined to make our class one that would be outstanding. We were greeted by Mr. Dorman who told us what was expected of us, and that we would succeed if we worked faithfully.

How strange everything seemed as we walked around the school bewildered! We were more than looked down upon by the pupils of the upper classes, but we had the consolation that some day we would be able to have the very same attitude toward the under-graduates.

About three weeks after the term began we organized as a class. Milton Shaw was elected president; Lynn Bussey, vice-president; Mary Dafgard, secretary; and Faith Broadmeadow, treasurer. During our Freshman year many of our boys joined the R. O. T. C., aspiring to be commissioned officers. A few girls became members of the Girls' Welfare League in order to aid some of the less fortunate people of the city.

Before we realized it a year had passed and it was time to elect the officers for our Sophomore year. Carlos Torres was elected president; Milton Shaw, vice-president; Floyd Ashworth, secretary; and Faith Broadmeadow, treasurer. Milton Shaw soon succeeded Carlos Torres as president.

Mary Dafgard, Charles DeMailly, and Richard Wing excelled in their studies and were admitted to the Honor Society.

While we were sophomores we had the pleasure of seeing the varsity football squad defeat their dearest rivals who were none other than Vocational, Fairhaven, and Durfee which entitled them to the honor of being Bristol County Champions once more.

Then came our Junior year. Milton Shaw was again elected president; Frances Phelan, vice-president; Edna Kershaw, secretray; and Faith Broadmeadow, treasurer. Edgar Levy became outstanding as a member of the Debating Society and as editor of the "Crimson Flash". A number of pupils proved themselves worthy of recognition in scholarship, leadership, character, and service, and were received into the Honor Society. These were Raymond Barnes, Irene Gudewicz, Edgar Levy, William Mahoney, Frances Phelan, Mary Povoas, Bessie Resevitz, Elsie Sylvia, Mildred Wilkinson, and Albert Roy.

The outstanding event of the year was the Junior Prom which was held in the gym of the high school.

Our Senior year will be hard to forget. Milton Shaw proved himself worthy of the office of president for he was again elected, thus holding that position for most of his entire high school career along with Faith Broadmeadow as treasurer. Lynn Bussey was elected vice-president and Mildred Wilkinson, secretary. More members were welcomed into the Honor Society. They were James Besse, Alice Bulcock, Joseph Gagliardi, Dorothy Harwood, Grace Lowe, Julius Miller, Edna Mosher, Kate Poulos, Alicia Singleton, Jovita Souza, Florence Whalley, and Sarah Winetsky.

Lynn Bussey, John Economos, Gordon Rothwell, Randall Mendall, and Norman Brotherson were outstanding on the gridiron. Although the squad did not gain the Bristol County title, they showed fine spirit and gave great performances in defeating Fairhaven for the fifth consecutive time and Durfee for the seventh time since 1928.

Ronald Dean and Floyd Ashworth proved their ability in baseball by playing on the school team. George Lipschitz reached the top as major in the R. O. T. C. Albert Roy, as Chief of the Traffic Squad and President of the Student Council, will be remembered for his active work. We found talent in Edward McGrath who served as president of the Dramatic Society, and in Jack Scholfield.

The commercial department of our class was the first to be graduated from the addition to the school which was erected during our Senior year as a Federal Works Project with excellent office equipment and an amplifying system.

Four members of the class graduated with highest honors: Charles DeMailly, valedictorian; Richard Wing, salutatorian; Albert Roy, third honors; and Mildred Wilkinson, fourth honors. For the first time in eleven years three boys led the class in scholastic honors.

We more than enjoyed our class day program which was followed in the evening by our prom. The banquet was a great success. The graduation exercises climaxed the happiest four years of our lives.

Mildred Wilkinson, Secretary.

Class Will

Be it remembered that the Class of January 1936 of New Bedford High School, in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, being of sound mind and memory, but knowing the uncertainty of this life doth make this our Last Will and Testament, hereby revoking all former wills by us at any time heretofore made. After the payment of our just debts and funeral charges we bequeath and devise as follows:

To the 7's we give our superiority, the right to call themselves 8's and also the responsibility of upholding the standards of the school.

To the Faculty we give our appreciation and heartful thanks for all they have done for us in our time here.

To Miss Newland—a can of 3-1 oil for the Victrola in Room 101.

To George Webster—a shaving kit.

To Pop Williams—a new Cadillac.

To Warren Lavoie—Albert Roy's position as Chief of the traffic squad.

To Mr. Whitmarsh—the open air fiend—a class in botany to take him outside.

To Allen Cunningham—Donald Kaplan's six-year plan.

To Henry Taylor—a membership card to a sewing circle.

To Mr. Howard—a non-breakable telephone.

To Paul Despres—the medals that John Downey wears on his chest.

To Mr. Marvel—a bell so that the pupils in study hall might know when he is approaching.

To James Wing—a diploma.

To Mr. Donaghy—a life long subscription of the morning papers for him to read in the study hall.

To Genia Czarnecki—a new set of false eyelashes.

To Arthur Mosher—a West Point without studies.

To Mr. Airey—some popular songs for the orchestra.

To Charles McCarthy—a new football field for him to plant his face into.

To Herbe Valenti—Lynn Bussey's football ability and smart generalship on the gridiron.

To Julius Miller—an alarm clock to wake him up every ten minutes.

To Miss Robert—a class without David Johnson.

To the football squad—Lynn Bussey's car, better known as the "rattle of the century"

To the class treasurer—Faith Broadmeadow's efficiency in collecting class dues.

To Al Lucardi—Charles Victoire Forbes DeMailly's fondness to stay in and study.

To Arthur Frances—a bill for damages done to the track when he shot puts.

To the school—milk bottles which are made out of paper or cardboard.

To George Sharp—an electric shock so that he might move faster when he is on the football field.

To Nelda Paquin and Irene Brule—a membership card to the Murphy Club.

To the cheerleaders—a hole in the fence at Sargent Field so that they will be able to get in when the Murphy Club plays.

To the classes—the right to have inter-class athletic activities.

To Leo Gatonska—a book on elocution.

To the pupils—a book of Teddy Ambadgis's jokes.

To any of Miss Robert's future French Classes—the advice of doing their homework.

To Ralph Davis—the permission to drop history.

To Marjorie Bradshaw—a one-way ticket to Ethiopia.

To the chemistry classes—a set of air ventilators for the chemistry laboratory.

To Mary Dafgard—a pair of handcuffs so that she will not use her hands in talking.

To the school—a new student paper.

To the new building—a few more furnaces.

To Mr. Dorman—a "pass" to Vera's Bowling Alleys.

In testimony whereof we hereunto set our hand in the presence of three witnesses declare this to be our last will this seventeenth day of January, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six.

CLASS OF 1936.

On this seventeenth day of January A. D. 1936 Class of 1936 of New Bedford High School signed the foregoing instrument in our presence, declaring it to be their last will; and thereafter as witnesses thereof we three, at their request, in their presence, and in the presence of each other, hereto subscribe our names.

WIMPY,

JOHN BULL,

HAILE SELASSIE.

Prophecy

Class Prophecy

Your future plight may not quite be,
As we have tried to draw it:
But we hope that you'll pardon us
If a bull's eye we've not hit.

For though we did our work with zest,
We found ourselves against a wall,
When we discovered at the start
That we had not a crystal ball.

But though we missed the crystal ball
We've done our very, very best.
We hope you like our prophecy:
Now go ahead and make the test.

Classical Course

THEODORE AMBADGIS

Teddy will a doctor be,
And when you're ill
He'll come your sufferings to see
And end them with a pill.

FAITH BROADMEADOW

Faith will dab in fashion,
Design some chic new clothes
They will be just dandy,
Throw all girls in happy throes.

LYNN BUSSEY

If you see a fellow
Dashing through a crowd
It's Lynn, a reporter, you'll find,
Of whom we're very proud.

SAMUEL CRAVEN

And when you go
To see the races run
Sam will ride the favorite
And we'll be glad he won.

MARY DAFGARD

Fashion too, appeals to Mary
So about ten years from now
She will be the Queen of Mode
And gracefully will take her bow,

RALPH FEINSTEIN

Feinstein's shoes is quite a slogan
We must see who makes them too
It's Ralph who fits one to your foot
And tells you that it's a very good shoe.

RITA FONTAINE

Mixing herbs, preparing drugs
Is Rita's specialty.
If she doesn't change her mind
She will a druggist be.

LEOPOLD GATONSKA

For Leopold Gatonska
It's easy to foretell
A circus clown's no doubt, his job
At which he'll do quite well.

EMMA GIFFORD

Emma's cooking something good
In a pretty bungalow
For she's a loving, devoted wife
To Ray, her schoolday beau.

DOROTHY HARWOOD

In nineteen hundred forty-five
Dot still will go to school!
But she will be a teacher then
And live the theme of rod and rule.

RUTH HOWLAND
Ruth should earn fame
With her beauty alone
But instead she will marry
Leaving many to groan.

DOROTHY JOHNSON
When we hunt up Dot
We'll find her way out West
Where she will live a cowgirl's life
Full of joy and jest.

EDNA KERSHAW
To be a famous minister
Is "Kerry's" life ambition,
When she holds a pulpit
She'll fill the services with contrition.

EUCLEDES MACHADO
Eucledes a druggist has become
And stays awake all night,
And when morning comes
Does he look a sight!

LOUISE NICHOLSON
An artist distinguished
"Nick" surely will be
Her pictures so treasured
We'll all rush to see.

AGNES NUNES
In spite of her plans
For her later life,
She'll be lady of leisure
And free from all strife.

GORDON OGDEN
Gordon is so changeable
It's uncertain what he'll be
Architecture, held him once
As architect, he should do admirably.

FRANCES PHELAN
Bud will soon work in an office
But she'll think that won't suffice
So on the side she'll take her fling
At writing books and other things.

DOROTHY RISHTON
"Dot" is such a kindly girl
Her chosen career is to nurse
Her success in this depends
On whether her patients end in the hearse.

ALICE SMITH
Alice will travel
On land and on sea
No one will surpass
Her in geography.

RICHARD WING
Dick Wing's an attorney
He prosecutes those who stray,
If you want some peace of mind
Better walk a narrow line.

Scientific Course

FLOYD ASHWORTH
In the future we see
That Floyd a "pro" will be;
His throws are full of steam;
He's the star of the Yankee team.

JOE AZEVEDO
The principles of any game
Joe seems to know quite well,
He'll make a good instructor
For one can never tell.

FRANK BARYLSKI
Frank a machinist has become
He'll work for the G. E.
It will be a familiar sight
To see him working day and night.

GASTON BELLEFEUILLE
Gaston owns a store
He hopes to own many more
And when he establishes a chain
He hopes many savings to obtain.

ASHLEY CLARK

Ashley the carpenter now we see
At work as busy as a bee
And though he has a lot to do
We hope he builds a house for you.

IRVING COHEN

Many a throat does Irving cut
Do not dismay when this you learn
He's only serving public needs
In "Cohen's" credit meat concern.

DAVID COOK

Mr. Cook is quite a man
He now stands five feet ten or more
And so they've made him manager
Of Kresge's five and ten cent store.

BENJAMIN COUZA

Tossing people in the air
Is something that Ben's good at
A circus realized this was true
So they hired him as acrobat.

RALPH DAVIS

Ralph in a circus now we see
Trying to train some little fleas
They put on a funny show
And we laugh merrily when we go.

CHARLES DeMAILLY

To be the tops of all his class
Charlie did right well I'll say
And still we find him at the top
As "business magnate of the day."

JOHN DOWNEY

Although John's in the army
I think it would much better be
If he would join the Coast Guard men
To drive rum-runners from the sea.

ANTONE FRANCIS

In the future we see
Antone as an athlete
And as he is a runner
He makes his living with his feet.

JOSEPH GAGLIARDI

Joe is quite the rage now
Among the class select
For he's an A-1 chauffeur
And therefore hard to get.

ELWYN GARDNER

When "El" became an errand boy
He little thought or dreamed
That some day as librarian
He'd highly be esteemed.

BOLESLAW GOLDA

An artist bold is Boleslaw
And oh the pictures that he paints
For magazines of modern art
Would never class him as a saint.

EUGENE GULA

Eugene, the grocer, often says
In a polite and pleasing way
Good morning, madame
What would you like today?

JOHN HARRINGTON

John for dancing has a flair
We're sure he'll be another Astaire
He now is quite the rage
Since he went up on the stage.

DAVID JOHNSON

Although Dave is often late,
Dislikes school and teacher's ways
This attitude may indicate
He's storing strength for greater days.

DONALD KAPLAN

Like Boleslaw, Don is an artist
But one with a little more taste
And every picture that he paints
Is praised by the critics in haste.

RICHARD KOZAKO

"Bob Fish," the golfer of the day
Attributes his success
To energetic caddying
By Teddy Kozako, no less.

JAMES LEACH

To please the fair ladies
Delights chemist Leach
He invented a hair wash
The sun would not bleach.

ROLAND LEMAIRE

Roland's now an engineer
Who's built a canal so far
That we are given to understand
It's bigger than the Panama.

EDGAR LEVY

Our friend Lowell Thomas
Has passed from the scene
But Edgar replaced him
In Movietone screen.

HERMAN LORD

Herman is quite a boy
And doesn't know what he'll be
But he is bound to try
And dab in chemistry.

JAMES McHUGH

Of McHugh it is known
That as salesman he'll do
A fair business at last
Selling tons of his glue.

EDWARD MELLO

Eddy is a farmer now
The owner of many a cow
Milking from dawn till dusk
Is all that poor Eddies does.

ALBERT MELLOR

"Al" is a travelling salesman
And oft can be heard to say
Good morning madame
Could I sell you thread today?

JULIUS MILLER

Julius is a teacher now
Whom elder teachers do disdain
But pupils think that he's okay
That though he bores, the other's pain.

JOHN NORTON

To savage John I would not go
If ill-thoughts he doth harbor
For you would take an awful chance
In trusting such a barber.

DONALD PHINNEY

Donald gave me quite a scare
When I saw him cut my hair
For if one slip he made
He'd cut me with his blade.

ALAN RICHMOND

Alan Richmond used his 'ead
When he used his Cockney brogue
To portray for Columbia
h'A bally h'English rogue.

GORDON ROTHWELL

While at the show this afternoon
Whom should I chance to meet
None other than "Wen" Rothwell
Who escorts me to my seat.

ALBERT ROY

"Al" in now a critic
Of radio, screen, and stage
But as critic of the latter
He's certainly the rage.

CLAYTON RUSSELL

I see a group of women
In a circle gathered roun'
They've chosen Jimmie Russell
As the "man about the town."

PALMER SAMPSON

To see what makes things go
Brings joy to Palmer Sampson
And so we find him right at home
Repairing clocks that will not run.

JACK SCHOLFIELD

Jack is on the screen now
And often can be seen
Playing a role like Clark Gable
With the idol of the screen.

MILTON SHAW

The Navy band is quite "the" band
And well it should be so
For "Milt" is its first trumpeter
As such he's quite the show

RUSSELL SCHULTZ

The liner "Ol Eccidente"
Never docks late
"Reliable" Russell Shultz
Now is first mate.

CALVIN TALMADGE

When the U. S. S. Miami
Came into port yesterday
Captain Talmadge was so delighted
That he didn't know what to say.

MELVIN TAYLOR

Melvin is fond of his sweet cake,
Knows how he wants it to taste
So to be sure of his diet
He married a baker in haste.

ARTHUR UTTLEY

Suits by "Dubarry and Chase"
Must very stylish be
So first they are modeled
By handsome "Bud" Uttley.

WILLIAM WADE

William Wade is being paid
To keep insurance agents out
When they come, he throws out some
And puts the rest to rueful rout.

EDMOND WILK

'Tis all that you can see
'Tis all that you can hear
For the best in repair work
To Wilk's garage steer.

Normal Course

VIOLET ANTHONY

Violet wants to be a flyer
With every man her brother,
But our guess is that she'll be
A happy wife and mother.

FRANCES BORDEN

Frances slaves away all day,
Trying to keep up with her dates.
Like Peggy Joyce she finds it hard
Remembering her mates.

CECELIA CARNEY

Cecelia works in a beauty parlor,
Shampooing hair and cutting it.
By her art she transforms homely women
And with them makes a hit.

VIRGINIA CLARK

Virginia's now a nurse
She's the doctor's delight
And the patient's pleasure
With her cheerful smile so bright.

DOROTHY COATES

Dorothy's a nurse—
Her patients all applaud her.
She's never cross, she'd never curse
And soothes their brows so kindly.

LORETTA DESROCHES

At poetry, Loretta is a power.
She writes verses on anything,—
To a rock, a tree, or a flower,
Of which her muse doth sing.

HARRIET FISHER

Harriet wants to climb mountains,
To see the world at her feet.
When people ask her, "Why of all things?"
She says softly, "The guides are so sweet."

ISABEL GALLOWAY

One of our friends is studying foods
A dietician to be.
Isabel's this clever girl
Who'll make plump females wee.

FRANCES GRIMSHAW

Frances is a stenographer
In a downtown office here.
She taps the typewriter all day,
And of losing her job has never a fear.

IRENE GUDEWICZ

In the world of fiction now we see
Irene as a famous writer,
Bestsellers and prize stories
Drip from her pen while we watch her.

MABEL HARVEY

Mabel Harvey's a happy wife
Domesticated and nice
She rises early and cooks late
Since her baptism of rice.

VILDA KURGAN

Vilda sells cosmetics
In Cherry's down the street
She makes a big success at it
By always looking sweet.
